

Comments about The Gift...

“...this amazing and wondrous book, The Gift, by Diana Rose. ... The Gift could well be as revolutionary as it seems. I have no way of knowing, but it's got a better chance than American Foreign Policy.”

-- Ronald Hufham, Artistic Director, The Mirror Theatre

“...This book in the hands of young people can be one step in correcting this problem: How do you approach the act of love in an honoring way? I especially like # 22: 'Benevolence is at the heart of all sensuality.' .. There is the possibility for The Gift to be used to bring into awareness the importance for our young people, whatever it takes, to be more prepared for love. And, of course, being more fruitful in love is good at any age...”

-- Roy Ozanne, M.D.

“...Before I read even the first page of The Gift, Mary Magdalene came through to me, pulsating ever increasing waves of love until I was shaking all over. ... Suddenly I could see very clearly the shining beauty of the men whom I had known in my past, the tremendous gifts they had to give me. I wish I had seen that before, but instead I saw what was wrong -- not what was right. ... After I read The Gift, I spent a week apologizing to my body...”

-- A. Manering, Intuitive Counselor

“...On the one hand, The Gift is a highly readable and practical guide into an ecstatic realm of sexual intimacy between loving couples. On the other, The Gift offers its readers and the world a healing that is almost impossible to describe in words. Like passages in a great symphony each paragraph delivers a persistent reminder of our true calling here during the lifetime...”

-- Robert Zadek, President, MacroThinking Incorporated

“...I would have to ask, how many are actually aware of what that true pleasure is, where it comes from? ... If water is said to be affected by mere vocal words, musical tones, words written on a piece of paper (The Hidden Secrets of Water, Masaru Emoto), what kind of energy comes from love and love making?! .. Why do we feel an unexplained reconnection when we read certain scriptures or ritual as described in The Gift?” ...

🌀 The Gift 🌀

PROLOGUE

🌀 You hold in your hands a living thing...

🌀 Is it you who will change before your eyes as you read? Or the book itself -- the story, the movements which do not seem to know the boundaries of Time or Space?

🌀 There are forewarnings. The Gift has now been written and read for several months. Heed them. For with every word you read you, too, will begin to move past unloosened boundaries.

🌀 All along it was in our hands, in our steps, in our magical and mythical bodies to know the sweetness of travel beyond ourselves, with hearts that soar and love as the winged, the indelible, the new people of Nova Earth who will reach across time and dimensions to the others.

🌀 As you read, you will become part of it. You will be playing in the new adventure as our bodies and their universal partners unlock Time at last and the gulf of loving disappears as we part our lips and say, Take us there! We will go now!

🌀 Suddenly and without warning as The Gift was making its way into the hearts and bodies of a few first readers, a shocking flip of time and space – and I was moved out of my body while sitting in a public theatre. I was given instructions beyond the scope of the time, the bodies of this Ceremony. They are of such strange nature that it became clear they should be known before you read -- before you move where The Gift is going. For you will not be staying home when it goes there...

🌀 On a western plain in wind and sun, sitting on the lip of a cave, I was given instructions by the Voices which will touch you in some way before the days of your reading are over. And thus this Prologue gives their deeper plan, still unfolding... This is not fiction. As they began, it is a living thing.

THE INSTRUCTIONS

🌀 Find Translators of ancient languages who will become known to you as we guide them. Ask them to translate The Gift as best they can into the ancient language they know in their hearts – for those who translate from ancient languages into modern languages have bodies already seeded with the capability of traveling across time, knowing themselves in this larger space of Earth and the sister Earths.

🌀 They will find new “gifts” as this one slips into the ancient tunnel, a birthing channel in a way, one which you have not entered in eons. Things will be “found in translation” not “lost in translation.”

🌀 The process of movement will begin as they begin to translate. The translation of many into the ancient languages at the same time draws them together. This portal, when opened, will admit many times, not just one.

🌀 When they have translated and pulled the story through them with our Voices, the copy which they have created is to be placed with artifacts, objects from the time of the ancient language of translation. As they do this, they are to remember that they are placing a living thing which they have helped to create into a space already made for it. And in the objects that it touches, which have stayed here waiting to join it, they will know there are living memories and breaths embodied by those who created them; they are not absent. The space is full.

🌀 Those who perform this act and Ceremony are:

The Translators.

🌀 Others wait for this in the times of the languages and artifacts; the transmission is needed there. What passes through will not be the words herein but an alchemical form of them which can be read and taken in in that time. They will know what to do and wait patiently with open hearts to receive this.

🌀 The transmission is a “cue,” a perennial long ago planted that is now to blossom – both there and here... They will be able to understand, to translate for their times this Ceremony of new union, this giving of love, this generosity of the body and the Universe in the creation of Her Beloved.

🌀 And so the words will change. The times will change, each unto the other, reaching all the way here; all the way back into the hearts of The Translators who send them in an unselfish and courageous act of giving, one of Surrender to Time. You will not cross Her but that you surrender to Her. In order to translate, you must take in the vulnerabilities of the universes...that ultimate of powers.

🌀 All Translators of ancient languages carry the seeds of time travel. A doorway will be opened where this living transmission will have entered the birthing channel of Time.

🌀 A two-way communication will have been opened at each point. Take this step with love and in love – for that is you back there, in other delicious and conscious form, waiting for a Gift -- and to know each other with unlocked love, without fear.

🌀 You will be given a Ceremony for The Translators to open the doorway and send their codes across times nestled in the arms of artifacts which are carriers. What you have called psychometry is more aptly transmutation -- the transportation from this point forward.

🌀 The Gift 🌀

🌀 The Translators carry codes beyond this time. Their hearts will be able to receive as well as to send across a threshold which they create. It is a living threshold, a living doorway; it will change as new energies emerge from the Ceremonies, from your own readings.

🌀 We give The Gift not for one time, but for the many times of these hearts which you must hold now as the precious technologies of the universe which they are, which you are, beloved ones.

🌀 As you begin to give and receive The Gift, there will come a time when we will help you understand that you, too, are like ancient artifacts which carry code across time and dimensions – you, too, will know each other and cross doorways in alchemical physical form, which you begin to create with the act of the Ceremony of The Gift. Gradually you will be able to cross time and fields when you love; you will discover the pasts and futures of your sensual loving of each other, for you are far more in knowing beings than you believe.

🌀 As you begin to touch each other with deeper love, you will travel into new form and time. You will thus come to love all of the being whom you love with all of the being that you are...Your very bodies are time machines and space ships in unions of this complete love.

🌀 And now you take the first step... Sip the first words of nourishment which begin the ancient transforming across time as it was always meant to be. For you are each our beloved ones, and as we hold you, feel the love of all the Times.

🌀 Our Gift is in you.

🌀 *I was brought back into my body. The following day a way to those who would know translators of ancient languages on other continents began to open -- abruptly, not softly. I was shocked as I had been when The Gift first came through my mind and body, for it was so fast. I could not understand how this path formation occurs in reality, how it is made so quickly – and what this manipulation of reality has to do with a Ceremony for opening to universal sensuality. And then at last I understood something fundamental.*

🌀 The Gift 🌀

You can feel it if you listen from somewhere else and reach softly within as you read. You are not where you think you are. In the body's deeper sensual knowledge there is a parallel sense of place.

🌀 There is a presence in this sensuality of the body which is not known to us as a being – but it is a being in a way, and it is always within. It can guide and touch us as we have never been touched.

🌀 And then they said: The Woman will make a path. And this is how she will do it: She will love. She will love him as she has never loved him before...

🌀 I began to read all of it again to hunt for something I had missed. I started at the beginning. I stayed up all night and read. I do not now know who stayed up with me...but I was not there alone.

🌀 And it came to me that we need never be alone again. They are always there.

🌀 Read on...

❧ The Gift ❧

🌀 The Gift 🌀

THE BEGINNING

TO READ THIS BOOK

🌀 This begins a process of honoring yourself in thought, spirit, and body which is loving and respectful.

🌀 Read no part of this book without reading all of this book. This is a commitment to make to the universe before beginning to read. You will be tempted to believe that you can easily make such a commitment to reading. But this is not an idle Gift we bring. It is not an idle reading and it is not an idle agreement. The body knows the difference. Once the process begins, it is not a reversible process. And it begins with the first Word.

🌀 Arrange a private time and place for the reading of the book, for the Ceremony of The Gift begins with your reading. The forces which bring it begin to enter the body. In a sense, two will be reading, the mind and the body. Allow the body to know its own truths and begin to speak them to you.

🌀 The Ceremony always begins in the heart and mind, and you should allow plenty of time to let them roam deep when you begin to decipher its pages.

🌀 The Gift 🌀

🌀 Thus, prepare a private space to read, a time of sanctuary. Read alone and arrange not to be interrupted in your reading. Assure that you have pure water to drink and perhaps some small nourishment at hand, a journal and favorite pen. Wear soft and comfortable clothing that caresses the body and gives it the freedom to join you in your discoveries of it.

🌀 Freely imagine the Ceremony as you read, for you will begin to involuntarily. Allow time to think about your experience of it afterwards and know it, as it will seek a sacred and not a temporal place in you and that requires time away from your usual times.

🌀 Allow a lengthy time for reading, as you may enter an altered state and find later that you do not want to leave reading according to a linear schedule. This reading will be on the body's schedule; it is a matter of the heart. These are not linear. The Ceremony engages and touches the body directly and it may be difficult to stop reading in the middle of the process. Even if you read only a portion of the book, allow time for yourself and your body to process it as well as time to rest for the evening, even time to make love with your partner after you read. Do not tire yourself reading into the night. Sleep is important because of multidimensional energies that enter during contemplation.

🌀 This is a book for the body, to honor it and to love it well. Arrange time to relax simply, to think and be with yourself after reading.

🌀 The reading of The Gift is meant to be a special time for you. It is best to arrange a time when you will not have any tense interaction with others before or after reading -- not work, either, nor watching trivial entertainments. Forces begin to work in you while reading and you do not want to dissipate them nor dishonor them, nor become irritable with someone who interrupts you unintentionally.

10

🌀 As you will tend to enter an altered space and time after reading for a while, you can become distracted if afterward you attempt to drive or plan intense linear left brain activity. Allow your creative mind, heart, and body to join in privacy and do not enter other space until you have rested and re-focused.

🌀 The Gift 🌀

11

🌀 A recording of calm sound tones may be provided with this book. You may read in silence or while listening to these tones, which lubricate an altered state. But do not have any other activity or sound in the background and no electronic distractions. Allow the mind and body to enjoy each other as a blank page, to write from the heart into each other the things that you do not usually allow said within you...

12

🌀 Think lovingly of yourself as you read, regarding and affirming the beauty of your body and the richness of your sensuality; these are magic potions... Listen, feel for them, allow them to touch you in full.

13

🌀 Read only when your body is comfortable and nourished, not too full. Arrange to eat a natural organic meal beforehand, free of chemicals; take a few minutes beforehand to appreciate this meal. It is good to include a few foods rich in animal protein, fats such as in natural butter, organic meats or eggs, which are sorely missing from your diets, needed to enrich sensualities and creative sensitivities. However, allow time to digest and relax comfortably before you read.

14

🌀 Because the Ceremony engages the body at deep levels and in natural altered states, it is not a good time to read if you are feeling ill or are using mind-altering drugs, alcohol, or medications which disrupt or disorient the body's receptors at many levels. The Ceremony honors the body and mind and it is best to read when clear and honest in both with full awareness. In the same way, it is not honoring of the body to read when you are angry with another, exhausted in yourself, or so distracted that you cannot think clearly.

15

🌀 The Ceremony brings joy, but it also brings powerful electromagnetic and metaphysical forces into play in a loving of the body with the heart. You want to prepare for reading in a respectful way, giving your body your full attention. Do not read near a number of electronic devices which are plugged to electrical circuits; unplug them if possible so that subtle, gentle energies in the universe may join you in private relaxation and contemplation.

16

🌀 As you honor the body, it will honor you.

🌀 The Gift 🌀

17

🌀 Join with the body during the Ceremony. It is an ancient rite, an ancient Gift we bring to you, returning it to its rightful receivers in the universe.

18

🌀 You are reading this because you have been pulled or touched to read it in some way; be assured that you are at some level already aware of the course in which you will become Giver of the Gift or the Beloved. The body will know this and at deeper levels, you have been expecting it.

19

🌀 The Ceremony is also to be performed in your mind, perhaps many times before you will ever experience it in physical form, for the conditions must be right, otherwise The Gift cannot be fully transmitted. The physical Ceremony is only for committed, honoring, loving adult couples best over the age of 28, who are bound in formal partnership. But it may be lovingly read and richly experienced in the mind by a younger woman or by any woman of any age who aspires to become the Giver of The Gift in the future, to develop this ability; to love herself and honor her body and her heart; to imagine a pureness about her to be given only in honor to a Beloved who honors her, so that she holds herself in privacy only for the Beloved, as the special being – the rose that she is.

20

🌀 The Ceremony can be read and experienced in the mind by a younger man or by any man of any age who aspires to become the Beloved at some time in the future, to open his heart and body to be loved in this way, to be initiated into the knowledge of the vulnerabilities of the universe. If you are a young man reading this to learn to honor your own heart and true love, you will be most Blessed on the Earth to know the universe through her when the time is right and you are older, to imagine honoring her and honoring yourself. This is an Empowerment Ceremony for you both and prepares you for that future. Never mistake: The Ceremony of The Gift, read, performed, or imagined, is a metaphysical and alchemical ceremony offered at this time; these meditations prepare you for entering altered consciousness, new dimensions of body consciousness, and intense personal insight (783-815).

21

🌀 The beautiful stories in your mind are not unlike the beautiful stories in your life which evoke such strong emotions for learning and re-membering. So powerful they are. Much can be learned from beautiful love stories and conversations in the mind – but you do not know this and so hide their deeper meanings from yourself and are even ashamed of them. We ask you to look honestly at the richness of your loving stories as you seek to let the body and the heart feel together in this reading, honoring the Beloved and the Giver of the Gift.

22

🌀 Can you stop the lovely stories in your mind? Can they truly be hidden? You would as easily try to stop loving. This is impossible. There, in the heart, you can practice the creation of love and a beautiful imagining which honors and respects and from which you can grow as a benevolent being. Benevolence is at the heart of all sensuality.

23

🌀 Though this may seem impossible, as you create love which honors, you will come to feel that the love you have created loves you back... that your beautiful thoughts and stories can create love in themselves and in you, as well as deeper, intense emotional levels of creativity. In these stories you are learning to be vulnerable to the universe, to experience its vast knowledge, its rich sensualities, beyond that which you now experience in mind and body when you try to hold these back and do not understand the purpose of sensual imagination!

24

🌀 Beauty is not simply in or seen through the eye of the beholder, it is literally formed or created there in an honoring love, in body and mind; in some sense, beauty is the Eye of the Beholder -- or its creator.

25

🌀 The Ceremony is written in its scripting for loving committed partners who are man and woman. But it is as well especially meaningful for loving committed partners who are both male or who are both female, or when one is both male and female; it honors all in love.

26

🌀 As you advance in years, the Ceremony is increasingly enriching and allows the body to re-member what the societies have told you that you have lost. The body knows better and it will re-mind you in force, in heart and soul and feelings, that it is amazing, fertile, and full of new wonders every day. Let it woo you... Let the mind expand into perception of subtle energies and synthesis of wisdom with the body that which only your years of experience and knowledge can bring.

27

🌀 Ultimately The Gift is given now to honor every loving adult being on Earth, regardless of circumstances or the events in life which have caused pain. You are always to us our Beloved. You are always to us the Giver of the Gift. And we honor and respect you and love your hearts within our own.

28

🌀 This private reading time with the body and heart is to be spent in complete solitude, not even with a loving and honoring partner. It is ultimately a meditation joining body, heart, mind, and soul in making re-connections. The Gift is also a mantra and certain words herein which are repeated again and again in the mind and body while reading to establish a deep resonance field outside of normal linear space-time. In the end, we give a simple meditation practice (783-815) to use as you embark on this Ceremony of your heart. But remember that the reading of The Gift is also a meditation with the body. The meditations given, when done daily, will cause an expanded subtle perception, a re-membling of things forgotten, a deeper honoring of the body and your sacred place in the universe, and you will find yourself in new orbits around your mind.

29

🌀 It is very good to sleep after reading the Ceremony and relaxing or making love. You may find this a very deep sleep; be sensitive to the body's dreams. If you are in a loving committed partnership, be thoughtful about allowing time in the evening to make love together with your partner or be together affectionately, for you may find that you want to.

30

🌀 We honor you with the Ceremony as you begin to create love together again, to create the Beloved and the loving Giver of The Gift as they should always be, forever.

FOR THE CASUAL READER OF ENTERTAINMENTS

🌸 The Gift 🌸

31

🌸 It is always in the culture of casual entertainments to make humor when the heart is not full. You will be tempted to make this humor to relieve pain -- but remember your heart. The body does not pretend or make humor about its deepest reaches into the universe, its desire to love and be beloved. This is a universal statement which reveals much about you. If you speak humorously about the Giver of The Gift or the Beloved it will be a dishonoring of your heart, which is quite wise within you. Listen to it and put your cleverness aside. Seek a full heart – and a full heart will seek you.

32

🌸 Nor is this an idle technique for your physical entertainment. There is powerful force invoked and when you seek to play with it idly, you play with fire. The best way to engage it is with a full heart and universal peace. Seek these to understand its real playfulness in the universe, for it would play with you in joy once you receive it with openness. When you are idle, think to yourself for a moment: Am I Beloved? Am I a Giver of a Gift? This will find your mind at home...

🌸 To trivialize the honest sensuality of your bodies is to trivialize love, and it is your most precious Gift. Love is truly innocent and enduring; you do not want the mark of dishonoring it to endure with your years.
